

ADRIAN ALAN

Fine Art & Antiques

PASQUALE ROMANELLI (1812 - 1887)

A Marble Figure of Ruth Gleaning

Circa: Circa 1870

114 x 0 cm (44 7/8 x 0 inches)

Italy

1870

The base inscribed 'Prof. P. Romanelli. Firenze'.

An Italian Marble Figure of Ruth Gleaning by Pasquale Romanelli.

Artist description:

Pasquale Romanelli was a pupil of Luigi Pampaloni and Lorenzo Bartolini in Florence. He subsequently became Bartolini's collaborator and continued his studio on the latter's death. Romanelli achieved notoriety in his own right, executing numerous public monuments in his native Italy, as well as exhibiting both in Paris and London. He was particularly renowned for his sensuous treatment of mythological, allegorical and biblical female figures. Romanelli, exhibited a figure of Ruth, at the Paris Salon in 1851.