

ADRIAN ALAN

Fine Art & Antiques

A Pair of German Figures Depicting a Female Diver and Her Admirer

Circa: Circa 1900

37 x 0 cm (14⁵/₁ x 0 inches)

Boxwood ivory

Germany

1900

A Pair of German Ivory and Boxwood Figures Depicting a Female Diver and Her Admirer.

The female figure finely carved in ivory as a diver, after the famous figure by Odoarda Tabacchi, her costume carved in boxwood; her admirer carved with a boxwood hat and robe and holding a spyglass, each standing on naturalistic carved bases raised on ebonised circular plinths.

Approximate dimensions:

Female Diver

Height 37cm/15inches

Male Admirer

Height 35cm/14inches

 Adrian Alan Ltd is committed to the protection of elephants and preventing the illegal trade in ivory. All of the items that we offer for sale are antiques over 100 years old and of genuine artistic, cultural or historical value. The inclusion of ivory, de minimis in this figural group, is as an original constituent part of an antique over 100 years old and created pre-CITES convention (Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora - 3 March 1947). We do not support the trade in modern ivory in any way.